

Queen Terry Huntington Will Visit Torrance Tomorrow

U.S. Beauty Queen to Visit Broadway Del Amo Tomorrow

Miss United States 1960, 20-year-old Terry Huntington, will be guest of honor at a Catalina swimsuit fashion show at The Broadway Del Amo on June 24 at 2:30 in the tearoom.

Miss Huntington, a native of Mount Shasta, Calif., began her climb to contest fame as her home town's representative in the Miss California contest, which she won. She next took top honors by being selected as Miss United States, and after a hair's breath decision, she placed second in the contest for Miss Universe.

Terry, however, is no mere seeker of beauty titles. She has been seriously interested in the dramatic arts since childhood. While studying at UCLA she majored in drama and minored in dance. Then, when television acting and other commitments left no time for college classes, she continued studying with private tutors. Miss Huntington looks forward to the day when her name means great acting to millions of moviegoers. At the age of 20, most observers would say, she has a good head start on her ambitions.

Fox Market President On Institute Board

Edwin J. Fox, president of Fox Markets, Inc., has been elected regional director of the Pacific Coast for the Super Market Institute.

Fox's three-year term on the board of regional directors was announced recently at the Super Market Institute's 25th annual convention in Atlantic City.

Planning Director Powell To Direct Chest Division

George C. Powell, director of planning for Torrance will serve as chairman of this fall's Community Chest appeal among Harbor Area commerce and industry, Jim Becker, chairman, announced this week.

Powell will be in charge of firm contribution and employee gifts in industry employing less than 150 persons.

The Harbor Area, according to Powell, will be one of nine areas of the Los Angeles Community Chest that will vie for top campaign honors.

HARRY M. BARDT, executive vice-president, Bank of America, will take overall command of appeals in the Harbor, San Fernando Valley, Southeast Area, Centinela Valley, West, Beverly Hills, Hollywood, Los Angeles West, and Los Angeles East.

In all more than $2,000,000 will be raised in these areas for support of 170 Red Feather causes. Campaign units will include residential, local advance gifts, small business, and commerce and industry.

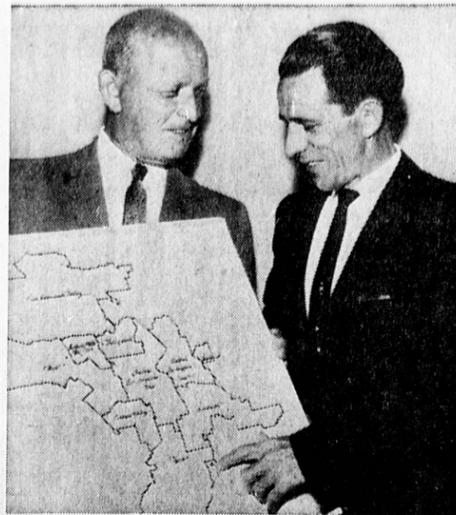

POWELL, who will head the commerce and industry phase, that last year brought in $48,457, has been with the city of Torrance since 1951, serving as planning director since 1954.

He is a member of the American Institute of Planners and the American Society of Public Administrators. He is also a member of Masonic Lodge No. 447 and of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, Georgia and Lorene, live at 4017 Bluff St., Torrance.

Local Photos Score In National Contest

Two local amateur photographers have been listed among prizewinners in a national photo contest. Local winners were Carol Ann Comer, 22626 Draille Dr., and Augusta Gross, 18528 S. Gramercy Ave.

HEADS APPEAL... George C. Powell (right), named to head the Community Chest appeal in Harbor Area commerce and industry, takes a look at the gigantic Los Angeles Area with Harry M. Bardt, executive vice-president, Bank of America, who will serve as chairman of nine areas. Powell, director of planning, Torrance, will enroll hundreds of workers for the Chest campaign this fall.

Urban Dwelling In Increase

By the year 2000, 85 per cent of the U.S. population will be living in urban areas, lending added importance to development of apartment dwellings which will provide a maximum of comfort and luxury in a minimum of space, according to G. L. Blanchard, district manager of the Southern California Edison Co.

"With the nation's population estimated at 320 million by the year 2000, this means 272 million Americans will be living in metropolitan areas, according to estimates of the Urban Land Institute," he said.

One-third of the nation's population is expected to be living in ten super-metropolitan areas, including about 20 million people in the greater Los Angeles area.

The electrical industry has made tremendous strides in designing appliances which can be used in the most compact apartments. Occupants of compact dwelling now can obtain all the appliances needed for a complete, all-electric kitchen
